HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average baldheaded man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, innoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Insult Resented.

Anthony Comstock had both eyes blackened and his face cut in United States Commissioner Shields' courtroom in New York yesterday afternoon by Lawyer Hugh Gordon Miller, formerly of Norfolk and at one time assistant United States district Attorney of the Eastern district of Virginia.

The head of the Society for the Suppression of Vice was in the court to prosecute a man charged with having sent scurrilous letters through the mails. Miller appeared for the defendant.

Mr. Miller was making a statement to Commissioner Shields in defense of his client when Mr. Comstock jumped to his feet and shouted: "You are a liar."

Miller took two steps in the direction of Comstock, shot out his right hand and landed with much effect on the vice agent's left eye. Commissioner Shields jumped to his feet and said: "Gentlemen, stop!"

There were a number of deputy United States marshals in the room, and they sprang to separate Miller and Comstock. The lawyer, who is a big man, broke away from the two marshals who held him and again rushed at Comstock. This time he jabbed his left fist into Comstock's other eye.

Comstock shouted something, and Miller struck him again, this time cutting his nose severely. Court attendants grabbed Miller and held him in a chair. The lawyer was white with rage. Comstock was mopping the blood from his face and could see little, because both eyes had nearly closed up. Miller was informally arraigned before the commissioner on the complaint of Comstock, who said:

"Mr. Commissioner, you were a witness to this unprovoked assault. I want this man punished."

Miller shouted at the top of his voice: "No man in this country, so long as I live, shall call me a liar and get away with it. I am not through with you yet."

The unusual occurrence created such excitement that Commissioner Shields thought it advisable to postpone further hearing in the scurrilous letters case, and announced that today, when he would take up the matter again, he would entertain formal charges against Lawyer Miller.

Soil Inoculation With Artificial Cultures.

(Abstract of Bul. No. 159 Va. Expt. Station.)

The importance, origin and history of inoculating the soil with nitrogen-fixing bacteria is discussed. A short account of some investigations along that line, with methods of preparing the media and growing the organisms, is given. Reports from the experiments in Virginia last year showed that 82 per cent. proved profitable.

The bulletin concludes as follows:

1. Inoculating can be done successfully and profitably where care is taken in observing the proper methods.

2. A conservative course is recommended. The recent wild enthusiasm, using such terms as "vest pocket fertilizer," "acts like magic," etc., are misleading, while any statement that inoculation by artificial culture is a fraud is equally wrong.

3. No amount of inoculation or any thing else will make up for an imperfectly prepared seed bed, poor soil, bad seasons and poor cultivation.

4. The results obtained and the cost of preparing do not justify the enormous retail price at $2.00 per acre charged by commercial concerns last spring.

5. The experiment station will continue to supply farmers of the State with cultures at twenty-five cents per acre. In turn the farmers are requested to give the material a fair trial and report results. Those ordering material are also requested to write name and address plainly, as packages have miscarried and failed of delivery in many instances on account of improper address.

Bulletins can be had on application to director of the experiment station, Blacksburg, Va.

Charged With Bigamy.

A warrant was issued yesterday at Norwalk, Ohio, for the arrest of Harry J. Reynolds, of Cleveland, on the charge of bigamy. Reynolds is general superintendent for one of the most extensive iron ore concerns on the Great Lakes. It is alleged that Reynolds, who has a wife and grown children in Cleveland, married Miss Mae Smith, aged twenty-one, at Norwalk Tuesday evening. After the marriage ceremony in Norwalk, it is charged that the couple went to Buffalo, and after remaining at a hotel over night, Reynolds sent his bride back home on the plea that he had to go east on pressing business. Reynolds is forty-seven years of age and is prominent among business men in Cleveland. The former Miss Smith says that she was courted by Reynolds for over six months past, and that he represented himself as a widower. To convince her of this fact, the woman says, Reynolds took her to a cemetery and showed her a tombstone with the name "Mrs. H. J. Reynolds" at the head of it. The young woman is the daughter of C. S. Smith, of Norwalk, and it was the latter who swore out the warrant for Reynolds' arrest.

Reynolds, his new wife asserts, gave his right name and position, but always maintained that he was a widower.

According to police reports Reynolds was married in 1902 in Cleveland to Isabelle McKenzie, a clerk in a department store, while his first wife was still alive.

It is alleged that he lived with both women until 1904, when the second wife died in a hospital.

Swathed in Fine Lace.

Mrs. Marjorie Mulhall, a dressmaker, of New York, was arrested on the White Star Line pier yesterday upon the arrival of the steamer Baltic, in which she was a passenger. She was charged by the customs officials of Surveyor of the Port Clarkson's force with smuggling. Mrs. Mulhall was taken to the Custom House from the steamship pier for an examination, and later was arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields in the Federal Building. Laces to the value of $1,800, which were not declared, were said to have been found concealed on the person of Mrs. Mulhall by Deputy Surveyors Rascovitz and Norman. Mrs. Mulhall was a cabin passenger on the Baltic, and when the ship berthed she was asked to step into a private room at the head of the pier. It was asserted that the laces were wound neatly around her limbs under her stockings and around her waist, sewed in her petticoat and even in her hat. As none of the property had been formally declared to the customs officials coming up the bay, as required by law, the laces were seized and Mrs. Mulhall was placed under arrest, the latter being an unusual incident of the seizure. Mrs. Mulhall refused to say anything when brought to the Surveyor's office, and Mr. Barnes, of the local division, with several special agents, went to the Federal Building to prosecute her.

About to be Buried Alive.

Conscious that she was being prepared for burial, but unable to move a muscle, Mrs. W. R. Sherwood, of Mabel, Minn., awoke from her death trance just in time to prevent being buried alive. The woman died of pneumonia, presumably, and was laid upon a bier and candles were lighted about her. The absence of the embalmer from the village prevented her body being filled with poisonous embalming fluid, which would have insured death. Just before dawn two women sitting up with the corpse were startled by a wild shriek, and hurrying to the death chamber found the corpse sitting up. Mrs. Sherwood was delirious for hours from fright, but later told the details of her horrifying experience. The woman watchers are in a serious condition from fright.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, MAR. 10, 1906.

WE LIVE in an age when nothing is regarded as sacred, and when the best men who have figured in history are assailed unmercifully. The story of Joseph, one of the most interesting in the Bible, and one which has thrilled the inmates of the nursery as well as their elders for centuries, is now being treated with contempt by the occupant of a chair in a theological seminary. According to Professor Charles P. Fagnani, of the Union Theological Seminary, who spoke before the New York Baptist Social Union one night last week, Joseph, one of the beautiful and pure characters of early Bible times, was anything else than a model for other generations. The professor, among other things, said:

The corn corner of Joseph has been in the public eye recently. That young man had a good private character, but Joseph, the king's jackall, who took every advantage to take away all the property of others, can be held up only to obloquy. Compare Joseph, the enslaver of the people, with Moses, the liberator! What was the matter with Joseph? He was, like most men, only fractionally converted. We think the conversion of a man in his private character is enough; but he was not converted as a citizen and as a man. Joseph could not have been converted to the kingdom of God on earth.

MAJOR GENERAL HENRY C. CORBIN upon his arrival at San Francisco from the Orient on Thursday said:

There will be no war between the United States and China. So far as I have been able to observe, the reported disturbances in China have been grossly exaggerated, and conditions are not nearly so alarming as one would be led to suppose from reports that have been published abroad throughout the western world. That there have been disturbances is quite true, but I do not think they will break the peace of China and the United States or any other nation. The feeling against Americans in China does not exceed that entertained toward all other foreigners, and as I understand the situation the entire anti-foreign feeling is due in a large measure to the exploitation of business enterprise which the Chinese feel sure should be controlled by their own people.

But this country continues its preparations to throw a big army into China for some reasons not made known to the people. In the meantime General Corbin, by his truthful utterances, will become unpopular with the "general staff."

AMENDED so as to admit to statehood only Oklahoma and the Indian Territory as one State, leaving Arizona and New Mexico entirely out of the measure, the statehood bill was passed by the Senate yesterday afternoon. The action was an absolute defeat for Senator Beveridge and the Senate committee on territories, and an utter rejection of the statehood plans adopted by the House and approved and urged by the President. The vote was a defeat for the administration, for the President had used his influence to aid the passage of the two State bills in the House and had given his support to Senator Beveridge in his efforts to past the measure through the Senate. The fact is the President has undertaken to direct legislation by Congress to such an extent that the Senators have become wearied and are at last trying to throw off the influence which he has exerted over them for some time past.

ALL fair minded men in the State will uphold the legislature in its action in vindicating Judge Crump of the charges preferred against him in the Corporation Commission affair. That he made a mistake in subscribing to one share of stock in the Virginia Corporation Company, and that this was "a grave error of judgment and an act of indiscretion," no one will deny, yet it was done with no corrupt thought or purpose, but merely to assist some of his personal friends whom he believed were engaged in a laudable undertaking. Judge Crump's services to the State have been very valuable and that he had any idea of wrong doing or expected any pecuniary gain from his subscription, none of his many friends throughout the State will believe for a moment.

ALTHOUGH the war in the Philippines has been officially reported "over" at various and sundry times during the past seven or eight years, yet a battle has just been fought in the island of Jolo, in which eighteen American soldiers were killed and, as the press dispatches state, six hundred natives were exterminated. This ruthless killing of the natives, if kept up at such a rate, will soon leave the islands in the peaceful possession of the United States. But Gen. Leonard Wood wants a promotion!

A MONTH ago when many members of that body were urging an extra session of the legislature with extra pay, it was urged by those members that the State's business could not possibly be completed during the regular session. On Thursday when a motion was made in the Senate for an extension of the session for one week (without pay) only seven members voted for the proposition!

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, March 10.

Congress was not in session today, having adjourned yesterday till Monday.

Next week, and probably for several weeks thereafter, the Senate will devote itself to the consideration of the railroad rate question. The Hepburn bill which passed the House is now the unfinished business of the Senate That means that it is to be taken up for consideration every afternoon until disposed of. It is certain that there is scarcely a Senator who does not think that amendments are required and the result of this feeling will be that the bill may be given its final shape on the floor of the Senate. How long the debate will take is uncertain but the prediction has been made that the final vote may be had before the first of April. There are but two vital issues. One is whether the courts shall be given broad or constricted powers of review of decisions made by the Interstate Commerce Commission; the other, whether during the court proceedings, on appeal, the rate fixed by the Commission shall be suspended or shall remain in force. It is known that there are a number of democrats who will insist that proper provision be made to protect the constitutional privileges of the railroads by giving them ample opportunity for appeal to the courts. Senater Tillman has been busy for the last few days in preparing his report on the Hepburn bill, and it is possible that he may have it ready to submit to the Senate on Monday or Tuesday. The Senate will be enlivened early in the week by a speech from Senator Tillman on the President's message which found fault with the text of the Tillman-Gillespie resolution.

Senator Piles, of Washington, announced this morning that the President has decided to appoint W. B. Hoggatt, of Juneau, as governor of Alaska.

Work has been begun on the new rifle range for the Marine Corps at Williamsburg, Va. The range is on the York river, at its junction with Kings creek, in York county, about eight miles from Williamsburg, and about sixty miles from Norfolk. A skirmish field will also be laid out for twelve group targets.

The Interstate Commerce Commission this morning published a formal order providing for the investigation of the alleged railroad monopolies in coal and oil in connection with the Tillman-Gillespie resolution passed by Congress and approved by the President March 7. The order sets forth the various matters to be inquired into.

The House committee on the judiciary today agreed to report favorably the employers' liability bill by Representative Bates, of Pennsylvania, which has had the earnest support of labor organizations in the United States and the recommendation for passage of which was made in the President's message to Congress. The bill related to the liabilities of common carriers only and provides that a railroad shall be liable for the death of, or damage to, any of its employees, resulting from the negligence of any of its employees or by reason of any defect or inefficiency due to its negligence in its cars, engines, appliances, machinery, tracks, roadbeds, way or works.

The Senate sub-committee on appropriations today heard the chief of artillery and other witnesses on the question of the establishment of a government powder factory. The sentiment of the committee as developed this morning was in favor of such an establishment, not of a size to enter into competition with the private manufacturers of powder, but sufficient to form an organization at which officers of the army might become acquainted with the processes of powder making and which organization could be extended in time of war. It is probable that the committee will recommend an appropriation of $200,000 for the purpose.

Another week of discussion of appropriation bills confronts the House. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, carrying a little over 29 million dollars will be submitted either on Tuesday or Wednesday. The debate on the bill will extend into next week and will consume not less than ten days The measure contains many reform provisions relating to the administration of the executive departments which will meet decided opposition. Monday will be District of Columbia day in the House. Consideration will also be given some day next week to the measures proposed to correct the shortcomings of the Tillman-Gillespie act providing for an investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission of alleged railroad monopolies in coal and oil.

The President announced today that the following nominations of federal officers in New York city would be made next week: Nevada N. Stranahan, collector of the port; Gen. James S. Clarkson, surveyor of the port; Gen. James P. Kerwin, pension agent; J. H. Haubert, United States Marshal for the Eastern District of New York; Edwin B. Jordan, collector of internal revenue; Frederick J. H. Kracke, naval officer of the port.

Lindon W. Bates, a New York engineer was today heard by the Senate canal committee in support of his plan for building the Panama Canal which has been turned down by the canal commissioners and by the advisory board of the engineers. He made a long technical explanation of his proposition which embraced a low level lock canal. Mr. Bates's plan proposes a new entrance to the canal near Colon, which he claims would result in a saving of about $3,500,000 in the cost of the necessary break water, as compared with the plan recommended either by the majority or minority. He criticized both reports in many respects.

The Senate committee on privileges and elections has postponed until next Tuesday morning hearing Senator Tillman on his resolution providing for an investigation as to campaign contributions by national banks

It was announced at the White House this morning that the matter of the appointment of a successor to Justice Brown, of the Supreme Court of the United States, is still in abeyance. The President has been conferring with Attorney General Moody and Secretaries Root and Taft regarding the appointment, but no decision has yet been reached. It is understood that Secretary Taft can have the position if he so desires and that if he should take it he would be made Chief Justice on the retirement of Chief Justice Fuller, should such retirement occur before the close of the present Roosevelt administration. Secretary Taft's acceptance of the present offer would, of course, eliminate him as a presidential possibility in 1908. Some other candidates have been mentioned for the position to be vacated by Justice Brown. It is understood that Secretary Taft is averse to leaving the position of Secretary of War at this time, despite the fact that he prefers judicial work at any other pursuit.

A resolution and a bill designed to cure the defects in the Tillman railroad investigation plans by giving greater powers to the Interstate Commerce Commission were introduced in the House yesterday.

The presidents of the "big three" life insurance companies made addresses before the New York General Assembly yesterday opposing nearly all the recommendations which grew out of the Armstrong investigation.

A coroner's jury in Washington yesterdaday held Leo Fitzgerald responsible for the death of A. W. C. Nowlin, which is said to have been caused by Fitzgerald whom Nowlin was attempting to eject from the Central Union Mission for drunkenness.

President Roosevelt has signed the bill appropriating $200,000 to be expended in marking the graves of Confederate soldiers who died in northern prisons, and were buried where they lay down for their last sleep. The money is to be expended under the supervision of a commissioner appointed by the President. He must be a Confederate veteran.

A meeting of the democratic committee of the First congressional district has been called for next Tuesday in Fredericksburg. The object is to fix the time for holding a primary to nominate a candidate for Congress from that district, to decided upon the conditions, etc. A chairman of the committee is also to be elected, to succeed the late Lloyd T. Smith, of Northumberland county.

President Roosevelt has decided to appoint William H. Taft, of Ohio, now Secretary of War, to the next vacancy in the United States Supreme Court created by the voluntary relirement of Associate Justice Henry B. Brown, who was appointed in 1890 by President Harrison from the State of Michigan. When Chief Justice Fuller retires—provided it is during the administration of Mr. Roosevelt—Mr. Taft will be promoted to his exalted position.

Expressions by the French and German delegates to the conference on Moroccan reforms in Algeciras give the impression that a compromise on the points hitherto deadlocked may be reached at today's sitting. The concession on the bank question paves the way for final agreement. France is still firm in the matter of police, but the opinion prevails that common ground will be found. Paris expects a peaceful solution, but rejects the Austrian plan.

Rev. Dr. James E. Armstrong, presiding elder of the Roanoke district, Methodist Episcopal Church South, will, owing to advanced age and declining health, retire from the active ministry at the approaching annual session of the Baltimore conference, which meets at Cumberland, Md., the latter part of this month. Dr. Armstrong has been in the active ministry 53 years. He will devote his remaining years to writing a history of the Baltimore conference, of which he has for so many years been the secretary.

Virginia News.

The Richmond Forgings Corporation has completed its plant on Belle Isle, and will commence turning out forgings on Monday.

Mrs. E. D. Withers, wife of Dr. Withers, was burned to death at her home near Wilson's Ferry, near Danville, yesterday.

Ulysses Hottel, employed by the Southern Railway as a coal-passer at Strasburg Junction, suddenly became a raving maniac in a coal bin yesterday. He is thought to be hoplessly insane.

Dr. H. Lee Howison, formerly of Fredericksburg, and son of the late John H. Howison, died this week at his home in Texas after a brief illness. Dr. Howison was a Confederate soldier.

Mrs. W. T. Hutchinson, wife of a well-known traveling man of Richmond, is critically ill at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ann R. Castleman, proprietress of the Virginia Hotel, at Berryville. Mrs. Castleman has been at the point of death, and several days ago Mrs. Hutchinson was summoned. She sustained a stroke of paralysis on the train and has continued to grow worse. The condition of Mrs. Castleman has greatly improved.

Major Armes Makes Answer.

In his answer filed in Washington yesterday to the petition of his wife for a divorce, Major George A. Armes states that he is now prepared to believe that his marriage to Mrs Mary Wine, of Maryland, was engineered by her and her mother to get his property, and then desert him.

The answer denies that he was ever cruel; that he ever carried a revolver or other weapon, or that his wife had any cause for fear from him. He denies that he has failed to support her, and says that he took her on a wedding trip to Mexico and the Pacific coast, and that he paid all bills necessary for the board of the complainant's two children, her mother, uncle and aunt.

Well Worth Trying

W. H. Brown, the popular pension attorney, of Pittsfield, Vt., says: "Next to a pension, the best thing to get is Dr. King's New Life Pills." He writes: "They keep my family in splendid health." Quick cure for Headache, Constipation and Biliousness 25c. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons drug store.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

The Senate yesterday took up the Puller anti-graft bill and, dispensing with the reading of the measure, passed it as it came from the House.

The bill is sweeping in its provisions. It is as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia, that any person who gives, offers or promises to an agent, employee or servant any gift or gratuity whatever, without the knowledge and consent of the principal, employer or master of such agent, employee or servant, with intent to influence his action in relation to his principal's, employer's or master's business; or an agent, employee or servant who, without knowledge and consent of his principal, employer or master, requests or accepts a gift or gratuity or a promise to make a gift or to do an act beneficial to himself, under an agreement or with an understanding that he shall act in any particular manner to his principal's, employer's or master's business, or an agent, employee or servant who, being authorized to procure materials, supplies or other articles either by purchase or by contract for his principal, employer or master, or to employ service or labor for his principal, employer or master, receives, directly or indirectly, for himself or for another, a commission, discount or bonus from the person who makes such sale or contract, or furnishes such materials, supplies or other articles, or from a person who renders such service or labor; and any person who gives or offers such an agent, employe or servant such commission, discount or bonus, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100, or by such fine and by imprisonment for not more than one year.

Provided that nothing contained in this act shall be construed to mean that an agent, servant or employe shall not resign his position whenever he so desires, nor shall it be construed to mean that no person shall employ said agent, servant or employe.

2. No witnesses called by the court or Commonwealth's Attorney and giving evidence for the prosecution, either before the justice of the peace, the grand jury or the court, in a prosecution under this act shall ever be proceeded against for any offense hereunder concerning which he testified, but such witness shall be compelled to testify, and for refusing to answer a question shall be fined not less than $100 and be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months.

Under the call for bills and resolutions Senator Mann rose and presented a number of petitions favoring the amendments to the Mann liquor law. The Senator said the petitions were comforting to him in view of the action of the Senate Thursday night in declining to suspend the rules in order to take up the amendments. Senator Mann made a vigorous fight, but the members did not face the music and vote on the amendments direct; they just declined to take up the bill. This means practically a deathblow to the amendments. Several Senators followed the initiative of the Senator from Nottaway, and for some time there was a sprinkle of petitions from all parts of the hall. The petitions were not read, but were received and filed, and when the hour of midnight arrives the papers will be consigned to the furnace.

Senator Anderson procured the passage of the bill providing for the care and preservation of the returned Confederate battle flags, for which no owners can be found.

The bill prescribing the liability of hotel men, prepared by the State Hotel Men's Association, came up, an amendment correcting a defect in the bill being offered by Senator Phlegar and adopted. The bill was then passed. The bill limits the liability of hotel men for losses.

The Senate, at night with practical unanimity agreed in the House joint resolution requesting the Corporation Commission to prescribe a maximum two cent rate for all passenger travel on the transportation lines in the State.

Discussion of the automobile bill arose on a motion of Mr. Machen, of Alexandria, to reconsider the vote by which the measure was passed. The Alexandria senator called attention to the fact that hundreds of automobilists in the national capital came a short distance into Virginia for the purpose of visiting relatives or Mt. Vernon, and declared it would be a hardship upon these transient tourists to compel them all to take out licenses in Virginia. Judge Tavenner, of Shenandoah, referred to the havoc to life and property being wrought more particularly in the rural districts by reckless automobilists, and insisted that the Washington people should be willing to forego some of their conveniences for the protection of the people of Virginia. The Machen motion was voted down.

Senate bills were passed.

To abolish the office of register of the land office.

To transfer all books, records, manuscripts and papers of a public nature, now in the custody of the register of land office, to the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

To create the office of superintendent of buildings and grounds and to provide for the appointmen of superintendent of buildings and grounds and to define his duties and to fix his salary.

The Senate passed the following House bills:

To prescribe the time which allowances made by order of any Circuit or Corporation Court shall be presented to the auditor of public accounts for payment.

To regulate the running of automobiles, locomotives and other vehicles, whose motive power is other than animals along and over the public highways of this State.

To amend an act to prohibit keeping or exhibiting slot machines.

To authorize the several school districts in the counties of this State to borrow money and to issue bonds for the purpose of erecting and furnishing school houses, and to provide for the payment of such bonds and the interest to accrue thereon.

HOUSE.

The House took up out of its order and pass the Pettit bill, making persons in the employ of corporations ineligible to a seat in the General Assembly. The proposed amendment to the constitution is a sweeping one, and if carried into effect would debar such men as W. T. Wickham, Judge Mann and Judge Phlegar, in the Senate, and a number of leading lights now in the House Mr. Pettit made a speech for his resolution, and was backed up by Messrs. Byrd and Rew. Mr. Caton and Dr. Powell opposed. The resolution passed by a vote of 54 to 22.

The Churchman two-cent rate bill passed the House without dissent, the Senate amendments having been concurred in, and it now only awaits the Governor's signature to become a law. This rate will apply only to 500-mile ticket books, but they may be used by any member of the buyer's family, provided he notifies the railroad at the time of purchase.

The House, as stated yesterday, concurred in the Senate's action in adopting the minority report of the committee which investigated the Corporation Commission incident.

It was inadevertently stated yesterday that Mr. Barret's bill restoring the jail punishment feature to the Sunday liquor laws was passed. It was only engrossed and Mr. Barret made an unsuccessful effort to get it upon its passage yesterday.

The House rejected and the Senate insisted upon the Senate amendments to the oyster bill, relating to the use of patent tongs, and a conference was arranged.

The House concurred in the Senate joint resolution amending the constitution so as to provide that the sessions of the legislature shall be ninety instead of sixty days.

The House concurred in consequential Senate amendments to the Caton general insurance billl, the Byrd automobile bill and a large number of other measures already passed by the House.

The House passed the Senate bill fixing the salary of members of the legislature at $500 a session, after rejecting a substitute offered by Mr. Slaughter, fixing the per diem at $6. The only speech in opposition was by Mr. Massie, who held that good men could be secured as members of the legislature on the ground of patriotism, at the present salary, and that to increase it would encourage the candidacy of those who should not be in the body.

House bills were passed:

Requiring the several county and district school boards of Virginia to make and publish annually a statement of receipts and disbursements, and providing a penalty for failing to do so.

Appropriating $10,000 to the State Board of Agriculture and Immigration to be expended in promoting and encouraging immigration into this State.

The House also passed Senate bills:

To provide for the appointment of an auditing committee, and to appropriate money to pay the expanses of same.

To create drainage districts of adjoining or adjacent owners of low lands, and to give jurisdiction to the Circuit Court in which said lands lie to enforce its provision.

To legalize the adoption of adult persons.

Today's Telegraphic News

Killed by Falling Wires.

Boston, March 10.—Three deaths by falling wires, three horses killed, innumerable shocks and narrow escapes, miles of telegraph poles down across railroad and electric car tracks, crippling trains, telegraph and car service, many towns in darkness through failure of lighting service, shipping along the entire coast storm bound and business in many places at a standstill, were features of a heavy snow storm which swept New England from early yesterday morning until late last night. Many thousands of dollars' worth of damage resulted and it will be several days before telephone and train service will be restored to normal conditions.

Jacob Wenscore, 38 years old, and Samuel Bronstein, 25 years old, were electrocuted almost in front of their home in Chelsea last evening. Bronstein stumbled upon a fallen telephone wire surcharged with electricity from an electric light wire and Wenscore met his death in trying to save the younger man.

For twenty minutes or more the bodies of the two men were incinerated before the gaze of a crowd of 150 or more men and women.

While aiding a lad who had been stricken to the street by a shock from a fallen electric light wire at Salem last night, Guy C. Cowporthwait received a severe shock and died later at the hospital. The boy, Stephen Murphy, was also taken to the hospital. It is stated that he will recover.

At Watertown two horses were killed and at Wenham one was killed by coming in contact with a live wire that had fallen to the ground. At Beverly, West Lynn, Revers, and Malden, a number of horses were injured from the same cause.

Mine Horror.

Paris, March 10.—Terrible loss of life is reported in a mine disaster at Courreres near Calais. An explosion of fire damp occurred soon after the 1600 miners employed in the workings had descended into the mine. Fire followed immediately and it will be a miracle if a single one of the unfortunate workmen is saved. The accident occurred just after seven o'clock, when all the men had been lowered into the coal mine for the day's work. It was followed almost immediately by fire, which spread rapidly through all three of the galleries The fire burned so fiercely that the flames reached to the top of the shaft. It is impossible to give any idea of the number of casualties, as all approaches to the mine are cut off.

An official dispatch from Courriers the scene of the mine disaster, states that 400 men succeeded in escaping from the mine soon after the explosion occurred. Since then rescuers have taken out 120 men, but some of these are severely burned or injured.

Underground Railway Opened.

London, March 10.—The Baker street and Waterloo underground railway linking north and south London was opened today. The railway was constructed by the late Charles T. Yerkes, of New York, as a part of his gigantic network of underground railways for London. Half of the capital for the undertaking was subscribed in America and half in England. The railway starts at the Waterloo station and runs under the Thames to Baker street, via Trafalgar Square, Piccadilly and Oxford Circus.

It seems the only rational remedy for Coughs and Colds would be to move the bowels and cure the mucous membrances of the throat and lungs at the same time. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this. It is the Original Laxative Cough Syrup, the best known remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. Tastes good and harmless. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Drug Made Her Wed, She Says.

Pittsburg, March 10.—Alleging that she was drugged by the man who claims to be her husband, and that she was dragged before a Chicago Alderman on Christmas eve, where the ceremony was performed without her knowledge, Nellie Hinton Argast, of Chicago, yesterday entered suit for $25,000 damages against Nicholas Roman, who claims to be her husband, and against his brother-in-law, Emil Besnard, The charge against them is conspiracy, and promises to be sensational. Capiases were issued for the two Chicago men yesterday.

The woman, who is a comely young widow of 21, and who has or had very lately about $15,000, which came to her by the death of her husband, Joseph Argast, near Owensburg, Kentucky, some months ago, was arrested here last night in company with Louis Ladas, a waiter, formerly of the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, with whom it is said by Roman, the alleged husband, that she eloped some time ago, and spent about $1,000 a week. Roman denies the forced marriage and conspiracy.

Sinking of a Passenger Steamer.

London, March 10.—A large steamer which is reported to be a passenger steamer is ashore on Pierres Vertes, a ledge northwest of Ushant, an island off the coast of Brittany. A heavy fog hangs over the sea, and has made it impossible to discovered the identity of the vessel. The steamer has been firing distress signs since morning. Lifeboats have gone to her assistance. The later dispatch says that the steamer was refloated, but sank almost immediately. Her name has not yet been learned.

Brest, France, March 10—The steamer which went ashore near Ushant today is a freight vessel. She is now waterlogged and drifting. Lifeboats are following the steamer trying to rescue her crew and it is probable that they will be saved.

Brest, France, March 10—The steamer which went ashore on the Pierres Vertes today was the English collier Nelson. Her crew has been rescued

Impressive Scene.

Buda Pest, Hungary, March 10.—There was an impressive scene yesterday at an aristocratic soiree at the palace of the Countess Bathyany. The Countess Desewffy made an impassioned appeal to the ladies who were present to assist the Hungarian officials who have been dismissed from the government service because they have resisted the attempted effort of the government to rule by means of absolutism To enforce her appeal for assistance for these officers the Countess at the conclusion of her address unfastened a magnificent pearl necklace which she was wearing and offered it to the cause, saying it was her contribution to a fund for the relief of the Hungarian patriots. Other women followed her example, offering their jewels. The total offerings of jewelry are valued at $50,000.

Sarrien to Form New Ministry.

Paris, March 10.—M. Jean Sarrien, former Minister of Justice, called at the Elysee Palace this afternoon and informed President Fallieres that he was willing to undertake the task of forming a new ministry, as he was requested to do yesterday by the executive. He added that M. Bourgeois and M. Poincar had consented to enter the new Cabinet. M. Sarrien did not give his answer to President Fallieres until after he had had further conference today with his friends on the subject. It is generally understood that the agreement of MM. Bourgeois and Poincar to enter the Cabinet was what decided M. Sarrien to attempt the duty of reorganizing the government.

Fight a Draw.

Los Angeles, Cala., March 10.—Jack Sullivan, of Boston, and Hugo Kelly, the Italian pugilist, fought a fifteen round draw here last night. The honors properly belonged to the son of Italy. He banged Sullivan several times with a strong right and sent Sullivan to the floor twice. Sullivan fought hard in the last five rounds, which the referee thought made the bout a draw.

Russian Loan.

St. Petersburg, March 10.—The conference of bankers which has been in session here under the presidency of Finance Minister Shipoff, has decided upon the issue of an internal loan for 600,000,000 roubles. The loan will be issued in three installments, at various intervals. It will bear 5 per cent. interest, the issue price will be 92.

Czar to Receive Jews.

St. Petersburg, March 10.—The Czar has decided to receive a deputation of Jews with whom he will discuss the subject of semitic reform. Premier Witte in making the announcement that the Czar will give this audience, stated that the emperor regards the Jews as his own children and will ameliorate their condition.

Bridal Tour on a Fire Engine.

Shenandoah, Pa., March 10.—Immediately following the wedding here yesterday of Fireman Henry Jenkins and Bertha Mourty the bridal pair were captured by Columbia firemen. Then, perched upon the chemical engine, with bells clanging, the couple were hauled through the principal streets.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:

Champion Liniment for Rheumatism

Chas. Drake, a mail carrier at Chapinville, Conn., says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the storekeeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continued use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

The Corporation Commission.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., March 10.—The Corporation Commission today discharged John A. Upshur, chief clerk, and W. W. Barrow, additional clerk. R. Twiesson, assistant clerk, is promoted to Upshur's place and Samuel W. Bigger, who was Gov. Montague's assistant secretary, gets the position of Barrow.

Vanishing of War Cloud.

Algeciras, Spain, March 10.—The question of establishing the State bank in Morocco and of policing the country were both practically settled at today's sitting of the international conference on Moroccan affairs to the satisfaction of both France and Germany. The two great stumbling blocks which threatened to prevent the delegates from reaching an understanding have thus been removed and the war cloud which has hung over the horizon has vanished. It is expected that a formal convention will be signed on Tuesday, and the conference will then have completed its work. By the terms of the agreement reached today, the State bank which is to be established will be placed under the control of France, Germany, England and Spain. In the police question France has expressed her willingness to accept in principle the neutral supervision of the French police force to be established in Morocco, through diplomatic channels, but not by means of a neutral inspector general as was suggested by Austria. The German delegates have adopted a conciliatory attitude toward this concession on the part of France. Both bank and police questions were referred back to the committee for the final draft of the convention in which they will be set out. They will probably be presented to the conference on Tuesday and will be adopted, when the work of the conference will have been completed.

Gen. Wood Congratulated.

Washington, D. C., March 10.—President Roosevelt this afternoon sent the following cablegram to General Wood at Manila. "I congratulate you and the officers and men of your command upon the brilliant feat of arms wherein you and they so well upheld the honor of the American flag."

Miss Anthony's Condition.

Rochester, N. Y., March 10.—Miss Susan B. Anthony spent a restless night, not resting as well as she did the previous night. She is reported as a little tired today, but her temperature is about normal, and other symptoms are all good. Her physician still has hopes of her ultimate recovery.

President and the Miners.

New York, March 10.—John Mitchell, President of the Miners' Union, will neither deny nor affirm today the truth of the reported explanation by Francis L. Robbins, in Pittsburg, yesterday, of how President Roosevelt came to intervene in the controversy between the bituminous operators and miners.

Earthquake in India.

Lahore, India, March 10.—An earthquake has occurred at Simla. A report from an official there states that many buildings were damaged. Eight persons were killed and 26 were injured.

Jury Failed to Agree.

New York, March 10.—The jury that has been hearing the evidence in the suit for divorce brought by Sadie Brady against Daniel M. Brady, after being out seven hours, were unable to agree upon a verdict. They will report the fact to Justice Blanchard on Monday. This was the third trial of the suit and the third disagreement of the jury. The suit has attracted considerable attention, by reason or the prominence of the parties to it, Mrs. Brady being a daughter of Isaac B. Singer, the patentee of the sewing machine which bears his name, and Brady being the head of the Brady Brass Company, which furnishes railroad supplies all over the world. It is probable that on Monday next, the date for the fourth trial of the suit, will be fixed. The correspondent mention in the case is Miss Gertrude McKenzie, a former actress.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 10.—After a strong opening the trading element on the floor of the exchange played for a reaction and offered many stocks at slight concessions in the expectation that profit-taking sales would give them a chance to cover on a decline before the end of the half day. There were some stocks, though, which held strong, while the trader selling was in progress.

Knocked Down by Buggy.

A colored boy was knocked down and painfully cut and injured by a passing buggy near the intersection of King and St. Asaph streets late yesterday evening. He was taken to a nearby store where he received attention.

A well-known citizen had a narrow escape from serious injury on King street yesterday evening. A furniture wagon turned a corner at a rapid gait just as the gentleman had stepped from the curb to pass to the opposite corner and he barely escaped the wheels of the vehicle.

There is a chronic complaint that certain persons in charge of vehicles do not exercise caution on King street. The smooth surface of that throughfare is a temptation for dangerous speed, while many vehicles entering King street from streets running north and south do not slacken speed in order to make it safe for pedestrians.

Cause of the Report.

Between 10 and 11 o'clock last Wednesday night people in this city heard a report resembling a distant thunder clap. No one seemed to be able to divine the cause, and it was not until yesterday that it was explained, although it was known to several persons from the time the report was heard. It appears that an attempt was made by unknown parties to destroy the viaduct now in course of construction by the Washington-Southern Railway Company to take the place of the old Poor's House lane. On Thursday morning several of the workmen engaged in the construction of the freight yards in that vicinity, discovered that one of the abutments of the bridge had been injured, and there was every evidence that the damage was caused by a charge of dynamite. The bridge is now being guarded to prevent a repetition of the occurrence.

Subjects for Hogarth.

An item in this column a day or two ago referred to a disgusting scene in an ark on the north shore of Hunting creek, where men and women, who have long since descended to the lowest rung of the ladder of human degredation, were in no wise concerned as to who witnessed their bestiality. A well-known character, W. H. Hansborough, alias Si. Compton, an old offender, was arrested yesterday by Officers Lyles and Beach charged with petit larceny, but his stepfather, a man named Brooks, urged a more serious and inhuman charge against him after he had been taken to the station house, which, it is alleged by Brooks and others, has been oft repeated. He will be tried Monday.

Robberies.

Thieves last night invaded the alley bounded by King, Prince, Alfred and Patrick streets and took from a stable a horse belonging to Mr. John T. Nalls.

The stable belonging to Mr. J. M. Pettit, in the same alley, was broken open and a bridle stolen. The thieves left an old bridle in the stable.

Washington Jackson reported at the station house this morning that his place at the upper end of King street was broken into last night and robbed of four pistols and some other articles.

The stable of J. H. Dabney at No. 200 Payne street was broken open last night and robbed of a set of harness.

W. C. T. U.

Mr. Henry Barney, the converted actor and temperance worker, who delivered a temperance address at the First Baptist Church, some time ago, will deliver another address at the church at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. He will also speak to the ladies of the W. C. T. U. at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Children's Home on Duke street, and on Monday night at 7:30 he will deliver an address at the Southern Methodist Church. There will be a collection taken at both churches for the benefit of the temperance work.

The Market.

There were no new features in the market this morning. Prices were about as those which prevailed last Saturday. Some fine poultry was on exhibition, but quotations were still high. There were increased offerings of fish. Prices were unchanged.

D. A. R.

At a meeting of the Mount Vernon Chapter D. A. R., held on Friday, March 9 the following action was taken to refute the gross injustice done the Chapter by the public press: "Whereas the Mount Vernon Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has been, through some misapprehension, brought into unpleasant notoriety by articles in the newspapers in regard to the appointment of the postmaster at Alexandria, It is moved that the Chapter officially and emphatically deny and disclaim any knowledge of or connection with any committee calling on the President in the interest of any candidate for the position of Postmaster of Alexandria." The motion was unanimously carried by a rising vote.

SUSAN REVIERE HETZEL, Rec. Sec.,

Good Templars.

The regular meeting of Rescue Lodge, 532, I. O. G. T., was held last night at the Knights of Pythias hall, on south Fairfax street. Under the head of good of the order interesting remarks were made by several members. Mr. Chas. M. Hancock was elected chief Templar to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. A. Sullivan. A treat is promised all members who attend the next meeting, Friday, March 16.

New Wharf.

After Monday next Reardon's wharf, between King and Prince streets, will ceased to be used as a regular steamboat landing. The Baltimore steamer will leave there tomorrow evening and the Randall line steamers Monday. After that day the agents will move to the new wharf of the Mutual Ice Company, at the foot of Cameron street, and on Tuesday steamers will leave from the new pier.

The Late Adrian Bastianelli.

Adrian Bastianelli died at his home in Caldwell, New Jersey, yesterday. He was well known to many of the students of St. John's Academy, which he attended in the seventies. Mr. Bastinelli married Miss Kate Johnston, of Washington, D. C., who has many relatives in Alexandria. Amelia Bastianelli, a sister, married Wilmer H. Zimmerman, of this city. She died in June 1890.

Bank Notes.

Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw has designated the Alexandria National Bank as a government depository.

Mr. George E. Warfield, who has been one of the tellers of the First National Bank for the past several years, has been made one of the assistant cashiers of that institution.

New Depot.

A fence has been erected between the passenger and freight tracks at the new union depot, and preparations are being made for utilizing the freight house and yard at that place. Six tracks for freight trains have already been laid. It is said that the company intends to use the new building on or about April 1st.

Death of Miss Labille.

Miss Lizzie Labille, an old and well-known resident, died at her home, No. 125 south Fairfax street, this morning. The deceased was a sister of the late Mrs. John Laphen. Miss Labille many years ago conducted the millinery business on King street, near Royal, and later on north Royal street.

DIED.

At her residence, 125 south Fairfax street, on March 10, 1906, at 9 a. m., Miss ELIZABETH LABILLE, in the 80th year of her age. Funeral from St. Mary's Church, Monday, March 12th, at 9 a. m.

Kills Her Sister.

As was stated in the Gazette of that date, Mrs. Edward M. Standifer, aged 25 years, yesterday, at Atlanta, Ga., shot and killed her sister, Miss Chappell Whisenant, aged 18 years, alleging she was actuated by her husband's attentions to her victim.

Miss Chappell Whisenant was to have been married next Wednesday to a young business man of Seneca, S. C. Mrs. Standifer went early yesterday to the home of her brother-in-law, D. P. Dunham, with whose family Miss Whisenant made her home, and entered the sleeping room of her sister. What words passed between the two were known only to the two, but soon four shots rang out and Miss Whisenant fell wounded just above the heart and in other vital spots She died half an hour later without having spoken. Mrs. Standifer went to her home, telephoned to her brother-in-law's home, asking if Miss Whisenant was dead. Being informed that she had died, Mrs. Standifer expressed no regret for her act, and said she would follow Mr. Dunham's advice and surrender to the police. She was arrested later. During the day she conversed freely with the police officials, declaring that she had "avenged her outraged womanhood."

Mrs Standifer, in speaking of the tragedy, said:

"I have pleaded with both my husband and my sister to cease their sinful attentions to one another, but without the desired result. Time and again I warned them that I could not for my baby's sake, if for no other reason, permit a scandal, and they always promised that they would make a change in their conduct. But these statements were made only to be broken. This morning I went to her home and begged her to let my husband alone. She answered with a cynical smile. Then I placed the pistol to her left breast and fired several times. I am not sorry."

Standifer admits he loved his young sister-in-law, and that she loved him, but says there was nothing wrong in their love.

It has been learned that Standifer and the dead girl were out in a carriage until 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mrs Standifer is now in prison with her baby, only a few months old.

A dispatch from Seneca, S. C., says: "J. E. Sitton is a clerk for the firm of J. W. Bird & Co. He is a widower, thirty-three years old, and has two children. He denies he was engaged to Miss Whisenant, though he was acquainted with her. It is known that he has been recently paying frequent visits to Atlanta.

The Missouri Supreme Court this morning over-ruled a motion for a rehearing in the Standard Oil Company case, and ordered that W. T. McKee, secretary of the Republic Oil Company with certain books and papers, to be present at St. Louis, March 19, and the court orders him not to fail to be there on that date.

Mathews Convicted.

After being out all night, the jury in the case of Dr. J. B. Mathews, charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Zola Mathews, returned a verdict at Greensboro, N. C., yesterday of guilty of murder in the second degree. Mathews was immediately sentenced by Judge Ferguson to the penitentiary for a term of 20 years. An appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court by counsel for the prisoner. The prisoner's attorneys immediately moved for a new trial, but the motion was overruled by the court.

Mathews relied upon a plea of insanity as a defense. There was expert testimony to support the contention. The prosecution established a motive by introducing evidence to show that Mathews had threatened to kill his wife on a former occasion, when he claimed that she had been unfaithful.

The most sensational allegation at the trial was that Mathews had injected strychnine into his wife while she was ill and while pretending to be offering a prayer at her bedside. Witnesses from Richmond, Va., testified that the prisoner had made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide 14 years ago because of the death of his sweetheart.

The Statehood Bill.

The Senate disposed of the statehood bill yesterday by providing for the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one State and leaving the Territories of New Mexico and Arizona, out of the union. The bill was amended in committee of the whole until it became almost unrecognizable and when the final vote was taken on the crucial proposition, the Senate decided, by a vote of 37 to 35, to eliminate the last 18 sections of the bill, all of which related to the admission of Arizona and New Mexico. This left the measure providing only for joint statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

Senator Foraker's amendment to the bill, submitting the question of admission of New Mexico and Arizona as one State to a vote of the people of the Territories, was adopted—yeas, 42; nays, 29. Although this would have surely prevented the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as one State, owing to overwhelming hostility in Arizona, the Senate then adopted a motion striking out of the bill Arizona and New Mexico by a vote of yeas 37, nays 35. The bill was then passed admitting Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one State.

Predicted Her Own Death.

"I will follow you to the grave within six weeks." These were the words spoken by Margaret G. Omps, wife of a farmer of Frederick county to her brother, James M. Omps, as the latter lay dying at his home, near Winchester. Thursday Mrs. Omps followed her brother to the grave. Her death occurred five weeks from that of her brother. Yesterday Mrs. Omps was buried by her brother's side in the family grave yard, and no minister was present. Mrs. Omps was the daughter of the late Benedict Omps, and is survived by a son and a daughter. She was 65 years old.

Alleged Elopers Arrested.

W. T. Groves and Mrs. Roy Snellings, both of Stafford county, were arrested in Fredericksburg yesterday and held for the county authorities at the request of D. W. Patton, the father-in-law of Groves, charging them with deserting their wife and husband, respectively. They were on their way to Hanover county, where, it is supposed, they were to be married. Groves, besides deserting his wife, deserted his two children. Mrs. Snellings is the wife of Roy Snellings, and is childless.

Delaware's Hundreds.

In the days when the Saxons dominated England prior to the coming of William of Normandy the people were formed into divisions of hundreds. This was done mainly for military purposes and the convenience of assembly upon the summons of the powerful earls and barons to whom the people owed allegiance. These hundreds usually consisted of ten families, each family being computed at a minimum of ten persons. In time the families increased in membership, but did not lose their individual identity or change the designation of organization. In the natural order of events these hundreds expanded into communities and ultimately into geographical divisions and took on geographical designations. Some of the American colonists adopted this form of geographical division, and thus we still have hundreds in Delaware and Virginia, although in the latter state that form of designation is but seldom used. But in Delaware hundred is universally used to describe the divisions of a county and is equivalent to the township in other states.

The Last Long Sleep.

Familiarity with death is apt to alter one's earliest conceptions of it. Two ideas are very generally accepted which experience shows to be false. One is that the dying usually fear death and the other that the act of dying is accompanied by pain. It is well known to all physicians that when death is near its terrors do not seem to be felt by the patient. Unless the imagination is stimulated by the frightful portrayal of the supposed "pangs of death" or of the sufferings which some believe the soul must endure after dissolution it is rare indeed that the last days or hours of life are passed in dread.

Most sick persons are very, very tired. Sleep—long, quiet sleep—is what they want. I have seen many people die. I have never seen one who seemed to fear death, except when it was or seemed to be rather far away. Even those who are constantly haunted while strong and well with a dread of the end of life forget their fear when that end is at hand.—Scribner's Magazine.

Sincere by Nature.

The physician has methods by which he determines whether or not a patient is shamming. Other people have different methods, which may sometimes be as successful as the doctor's.

"Do you believe that was a real faint of Sally Ann's, or do you think she just shammed so's to look interesting to Willy Lane and make him offer to take her home in his buggy?" asked one of the participants in a recent picnic.

"It wa'n't any sham on Sally Ann's part," said Mrs. Ricketts, to whom the appeal was made. "I should think when you know Sally Ann wears sixes and that she lay there with her feet sticking right straight up for everybody to see for nearly fifteen minutes you'd realize that 'twasn't any make believe faint."

A Wonderful Bed.

A very costly bed was built in Bombay for a native ruler some years ago. At the four corners were full sized figures of Grecian maidens, the ones at the top holding stringed instruments, while those at the foot bore in their hands huge fans. Extending the full length of the bed was a music box capable of playing for half an hour before the repertory of tune was exhausted. The weight of the body set this music box in motion, while at the same time the figures at the head of the bed fingered the strings of their instruments, while those at the foot waved their fans, a concealed motor furnishing the power that kept the fans going all night long.

Charcoal.

Charcoal is one of the greatest purifiers of water that we have. Water or any substance allowed to percolate through it will be freed of all animal organisms or foreign particles. It is one of the best sweeteners of the breath. After a hearty meal it is a splendid thing for the stomach if added to it is a little ginger. It is excellent with which to cleanse the teeth, for it removes fungous growth that many tooth powders fail to touch. It relieves pain caused by a burn.

Expert Dyers.

The Tyrians, it is claimed, were the most expert dyers of ancient times. The fabrics dyed with the famous tyrian purple did not assume their proper color until after two days' exposure to the light and air. During this time they passed through a gradation of shades of yellow, green, blue, violet and red, which the dyers understood how to arrest and fix at any moment.

His Appointment.

Husband—I think I shall have to go out tonight, my dear. I have an appointment. Wife—Oh, Tom, what is it? Husband—An appointment with my tailor. He is to call here at 8 to collect his bill.

Unpleasant Proof.

Hotel Visitor—Now, you are sure this bed is quite clean? Servant—Yes, sir; the sheets were only washed this morning. Just feel them. They ain't dry yet.

Aims of a higher order, even though they be not fulfilled, are in themselves more valuable than lower ones entirely fulfilled.—Goethe.

Shot Wife and Himself.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Miller Park, Geo. Bradley, a boilermaker, aged about 50 years, of Lynchburg, shot his wife twice and then turned the revolver on himself, sending a ball through his head. Both persons were removed to the City Hospital at 7 o'clock. The wife died at 8 o'clock and Bradley cannot live. The husband and wife had been separated from some time. Four or five months ago the husband went to Richmond, where he remained for some time, recently returning to Lynchburg. He made no effort to meet his wife until yesterday afternoon, when she was in the park with two lady friends. Bradley followed the trio abou. the park for awhile and then approached and asked to speak to his wife alone. She refused to permit her friends to leave her, and the company sat down on a bench Bradley then began to plead with his wife to return to him. She refused. When he asked her a third time and received a negative answer he declared, "Well, we will die together, then." He drew the pistol and fired at her twice, while the ladies who were with the unfortunate woman fled, declaring they ran in fear of their lives. One of them ran into the superintendent's house, where she fainted.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by F. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shenick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several does that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Quick changes from hot to cold and back again try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest and positive remedy contains no cocaine, mercury, nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases are cured in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.
